

Planting the Toronto Botanical Gardens 2022

5/27/2022

By Tanya Carvalho, Territory Manager.

This week I participated in "Planting Day" at the Toronto Botanical Gardens, where there is a dedicated space for our Ball FloraPlant and Selecta One trial gardens.

Below are some pictures of this morning's gardening activities and all of the volunteers who help make it happen. We've just finished the first two beds with Petunia and Lantana. The Salvia beds, Dahlias, Glimmer Double Impatiens and Coleus are next up.

I'll be taking progress photos all season to share how these beds shape up and impress. Stay tuned!
